

Kings Langley Extended Schools Consortium

FREE Literacy and Numeracy courses

Would you like to brush up your own English and Maths? Do you want to know more about the National Curriculum and Key Stages? Are you baffled by what your kids are doing in English and Maths?

If you would like to know more, then why not join this course for parents, where you will learn about what your children are studying and how you can help them. You will also be able to improve your own English and Maths skills along the way and take a UK nationally-recognised qualification.
