BeauSandVer Consortium Community Programme Autumn Term 2009

Autumn is a great time to sign up for a new activity - whether it's getting to grips with a foreign language, or discovering your artistic talents from tapestry- making to painting. New courses include rug rug making, experimental painting and creative writing.

Super Science for the Community
Students of human nature will be fascinated by our new course in Forensic Psychology by Kathryn Weston of the University of Hertfordshire, whilst parents and children together can study the universe in our Beginners Astronomy classes.

Activities for Children include hands-on experiments and fun at our Super Science Clubs, Cooking and Fun French after school clubs, as well as the chance to Sing Joseph.

Taking part

The community programme is open to parents, family members and teachers, as well as neighbours and the wider community, so do encourage your friends and family to join in.

If you have skills that you are interested in teaching the community or sharing in school, contact Carole Heselton.

Course fees

We keep our fees as low as possible to cover our costs. Fees cannot be refunded if students drop out of a course.

Some courses require a minimum number of students to meet the costs, and will not run if insufficient numbers enrol.
