Making a positive difference to the lives of children and young people

Family Information Service (Hertfordshire)

Keeping Herts families informed and involved

The Family Information Service (Hertfordshire) replaces the former Children's Information Service and now provides a much greater range of free and helpful information and support for families.

What do you need to know as a parent or carer?

- How do I keep my toddler amused?
- Where can I find help getting back into work or study?
- Who do I turn to for health advice?
- Where can I find a registered childminder?

Where can you find the answers?

The Family Information Service (Hertfordshire) has the answers to these and other questions like them. The friendly support staff are there to answer your questions and provide quality, accurate and timely information to support your family.
