This NOW event will give you the confidence, motivation, hints and tips to make the changes you need to step forward in to your future and successfully manage the challenges that life throws at you.

NOW events are for every woman at every stage in their personal and professional life. Want to change your future? Do it NOW!

Meet the hosts:

Stacey Pike - Peterborough Women's Enterprise Centre Manager

Stacey is an enthusiastic and experienced trainer with 10 years' experience. She is currently managing one of only two centres in the UK specialising in Women's Enterprise.

Eileen Lennon – Head of Inclusion, YTKO

Eileen has been involved in the women's enterprise and business development sector for 15 years. She specialises in the design, delivery and management of very successful and innovative training and development workshops, intensive support programmes and projects that combine enterprise skills with personal development.

Clare Teale – Outset Herts, Enterprise Advisor

Clare gained her experience in a corporate business environment, but realising her passion she changed direction over 10 years ago to start working with people. In that time she has worked in the voluntary and public sectors, as well as working for charities. Clare is a trainer who deals with under-represented people, offering individual one-to-one support as a life coach.
