

PRESS RELEASE

Calling Local Artists and Sports Groups

The Borough of Broxbourne is on the lookout for talented artists and sports groups to perform at 'One Year and Counting' on Saturday 23rd July between 11am and 5pm.

The event in Waltham Cross town centre is part of the London 2012 Open Weekend to celebrate Broxbourne's vital part in hosting the 2012 Games. Olympic canoe slalom events will take place at the newly-opened Lee Valley White Water Centre in Waltham Cross.

Featuring local dancers, singers, musicians and with sports demonstrations from local clubs, there will also be interviews with local Olympic hopefuls and guest appearances from Olympic medallists.

Packed with entertainment, a variety of arts activities will take place throughout the day. The 'Two Years and Counting' event last year attracted some 2000 people, with performances from local dance and music troupes, boxing and martial arts clubs and interviews with Olympic Silver Medallist Mark Richardson.

If you would like the chance to perform on the main stage or demonstrate your sport, please send information about yourself or your group, by 24 June, to TSE Productions, 18 Mimram Road, Hertford, SG14 1NN or email:

contact@tseproductions.co.uk . Remember to include showreels, demos and photographs. All chosen performers will be contacted..

Local sports and performing arts groups are also invited to have a stand at the event. Please contact the Community Development team on 01992 785555 x5909 or email sw.leisure@broxbourne.gov.uk to register your interest.
